Important Safety Information

Before inserting the monitors in your ears, make sure that the volume on your music player is turned down. After placing the monitors in your ears, gradually turn up the volume until you reach a comfortable listening level.

We want you to enjoy music for a lifetime! Do not turn up the volume so high that you can't hear what's around you.

Prolonged use at high volumes may affect your hearing capacity or may result in noise induced hearing loss (NHL). If you hear ringing or buzzing, these symptoms may be associated with a condition that could lead to permanent hearing loss.
